HUSTONVILLE.

Harry Camnitz signed March 1 with the Pittsburgh ball team for the season of 1910.

Miss Georgie Newbern returned last week to her work as teacher in the D. and D. school in Nashville.

The horse Joe Shearer rode to Moreland Sunday stumbled and falling, Joe's foot was caught and severely injured.

Mrs. Elijah Kissie died of old age at Kidd's Store. She was the mother of James, Enoch, John and Geo. Grubbs.

Rex Reid, of Somerset, a native of our city, where he has numerous relatives and friends, is ill with "flat-foot" and other complications.

Howard Camnitz was given the third degree in Masonry Friday evening in Danville, after which an elegant banquet was served to about 200 of the members.

James Wright, whose first wife was Miss Laura Kidd, daughter of Mr. Elias Kidd, of Liberty, and a son of W. H. Wright, deceased, died at his home in Oregon last week, after a lingering illness of fever.

Myers & Vaughn shipped to Cincinnati a car of hogs and butcher cattle, for which they paid 7½ to 8 and 3 to 4c, respectively. This firm is buying large quantities of wool and paying a premium on top prices.

Raise a solid foundation for the future by buying one of our splendid blue grass farms now, and pave the way for your money to bring you the largest interest you ever made on land investments. Write or call on W. R. Williams & Co. quickly.

Mrs. Harry Frye was agreeably surprised Saturday by a throng of friends calling at her father's residence and leaving an assortment of culinary utensils, enough to stock a cafe. She and Harry "set up" housekeeping on Wednesday.

The improvement in our school under the present management is most remarkable and today we stand second to none. Despite the attractions at Danville and Stanford on the night of the 25th ult., standing room was at a premium to see Tony the Convict.

King Carpenter has returned from a trip through Texas and is satisfied that Kentucky is second to none and good enough for him. He spent a few days with our former townsmen, Jas. Frye, who is booming Tulia, being secretary of the commercial club of that city.

Mr. Tom Murphy, who was thought to be recovering from a serious illness, was taken worse Sunday and three doctors were called in consultation. He is a fine business man and if he survives this trouble, will be the next sheriff of Casey. Henry Gillock left Sunday for Leroy, Ill., where he goes to work in a factory.

Miss Hattie Lippes has gone to Baltimore to accept a position with a large millinery house as trimmer. Miss Edna Gillock, one of our efficient operators at the telephone exchange, is now on her second year and holds the unique record of not having had the very slightest cross word spoken to her or she to the patrons.

Our graded school students are good entertainers, as evidenced by a full house on the night of the 25 and a most enjoyable entertainment. Among the characters deserving special mention were Ama Barker as Sally; Christine Lair as Grandma; Marguerite McCormack as Helena Warren; Isa Floyd as Mrs. Van Cruger, and James Hall as Tony. The mixed sextette, composed of Mrs. John Riffe and Misses Jessie Powell and Bessie Riffe and Jerry Adams, Paul Willis and Wm. Dinwiddie, beautifully rendered some fine selections between acts. Mrs. Riffe has a sweet soprano voice, seldom surpassed or equaled even by some of the high salaried operatic professional singers of today.

Wm. McAlister Riffe and wife must feel that the incidents crowding so rapidly on their setting up housekeeping somewhat resemble a storm center. The good dames and damsels of this end have adopted the beautiful fashion of "storming" all neophytes with a parcel shower of essentials and conveniences to housekeeping. As Mrs. R. repaired to a neighbor's in response to an emergency call, storm-front to her buggy was tightly fastened and her and baby's only companion was an eight-year-old child. After passing through a gate, in turning the horse the buggy was upset in a stream. Storm-front wouldn't yield and mother and baby were imprisoned in the buggy top. The child succeeded in rescuing the baby unharmed, except a broken ring to pacifier in its mouth, and Mrs. Riffe finally emerged without greater discomfort than partial submergence. The horse was considerate enough of the contretemps and stood quietly till succor arrived. The summons was to an exhibition of the "shower" the good friends had collected for her. On return home, four of a family of 15 pigs were in excess of maternal fangs and a foster mother in urgent demand. At last accounts all were thriving.

SHELTON M. SAUFLEY.

The present manager of the INTERIOR JOURNAL, desiring to give the readers and patrons of this paper an introduction to the new owner and editor, took a snapshot of Mr. Shelton M. Saufley and the above half tone was made from it. He is much averse to seeing his picture in print and no one will be more surprised than he when he reads his paper this morning and sees himself portrayed. Mr. Saufley will arrive from Frankfort Saturday, March 12, to take charge and the present incumbent hopes to introduce him to many of his readers the court day following.

The young ladies of the Hustonville Baptist church will give a candy pull at the Lair building this, Friday evening, March 4th. Go and help a good cause.

Mrs. Margaret Swope, who lost a son and was seriously poisoned herself in the Kansas City tragedy, was a granddaughter of George Lee, for many years a prominent farmer of the West End. He owned the farm now rented by J. B. Honaker. She was a double first cousin of J. G. and George D. Weatherford and Mrs. D. S. Carpenter, of our city. Miss Nora Belle Dixon, who was governess for many years, was also a native of the West End, being a daughter of Laura Brown, who was raised and educated here.

SHELTON M. SAUFLEY,
OWNER.

HON. HARVEY HELM

of Lincoln county, is a candidate for re-nomination for Congress from the Eighth district, subject to the action of the democratic party.

THE EDITOR'S FRANKFORT LETTER.

FRANKFORT, MARCH 2.—This is the busiest time of the Legislative session. Every man who has a bill that he wants passed is on the ground working with might and main to get into the favor of the Rules committee of the House, which is grinding out business daily in the lower branch. That august body in the Senate has not yet gotten in control of affairs, for its rules say that the Rules Committee shall not take hold until the last ten days of the session. This is keeping the democrats who want to pass some special legislation before it may become endangered by the veto ax, pretty busy. The Louisville "ripper" bill is the bone of contention in the upper chamber just now and the republicans are doing everything possible to stave it off until the last ten days so that Gov. Wilson can veto it. This measure is designed to abolish the present office of city attorney of Louisville, now held by a republican. It would supply the place of corporation counsel, to be filled by appointment of Democratic Mayor Head. The office would be the same, but under a different name. Mayor Head is very anxious for the bill to pass and the leaders in the Senate are trying to oblige him. He says that his administration cannot be made the success he desires without a democratic attorney.

UNIT BILL A BIG STICK.

The republican leaders are moving heaven and earth to hold the place, and some of the whisky republicans have threatened to vote to bring the County Unit bill up if the whisky democrats persist in their efforts to put the "ripper" bill over. The County Unit bill is the big stick which is swayed over all heads this session. Many believe that it will prove an enormous bugbear in the future paths of many promising politicians; especially those who came here pledged to support it and then slaughtered it, without hint or apology to their constituents.

MAY TALK AGAINST TIME.

Two days more and the republicans will have no fear of the Ripper bill, which is practically the only partisan piece of legislation that has been seriously considered this session. In that period the Governor's veto will come into its own, and it will avail the democrats nothing to pass anything that he might be suspected of opposing. There is some talk that Senator A. J. Oliver, of Allen county, will endeavor to make a speech two days in length to kill the bill. Talking against time has been resorted to in a number of cases in the National Congress, but it is a very rare thing in the Legislature. The Senate was in a muddle as to who had the floor when it adjourned Tuesday. It is said that President Cox will recognize Senator Oliver, who will begin his proposed long-winded speech, the chair abetting the plan by refusing to recognize anyone else while Oliver is on his feet. It remains to be seen whether such a desperate scheme can be carried out.

PRISON BILLS PASS.

The Rules Committee of the House have five days' advantage over its companion body in the Senate, as the House committee went to the helm 15 days in advance of final adjournment. Bills providing for reform in management of the State prisons chiefly occupied the attention of the House today. Three were passed: the indeterminate sentence act; the reformatory and the amended parole acts. Experts on penitentiary affairs and students of the convict system believe that these bills will be the means of effecting great changes in the condition of prisoners and accomplish much toward the betterment of the individual and his preparation for the society of law-abiding people again. It remains to be seen. These bills have passed the Senate and are now ready for the Governor. It is probable that the bill to abolish capital punishment by the gallows will also be adopted. Death sentences will then be carried out through the agency of the electric chair at the penitentiary here.

FEW APPROPRIATIONS AS YET.

So far the General Assembly has for the most part steered clear of every bill which makes a noise like the clink of money coming out of State's strongbox. All realize that it would be useless to appropriate and have the Governor nullify the result, as he will do if the prospect does not appear pleasing to him. It is believed that the Governor will approve an appropriation of about a quarter of a million more dollars to finish the capitol grounds and put the final touches on the building. In the mere matter of money this is not likely to prove an expensive session, as sessions generally go. In the matter of men's political reputations, it seems likely that another tale will be told.

LOBBYISTS ARE BUSY BOYS.

Several large daily papers and country papers all over the State are charging that never was any session of the General Assembly more completely subservient to the wishes of lobbyists for the big corporations. One who has watched a number of Legislatures come and go, right on the ground, can truly say that there has been little exaggeration in any of the charges that have been made. The rules of the Senate were framed by these lobbyists or their henchmen in the beginning and the whole session has been more or less a mirror of their manipulations. There are many strong, fearless defenders of the rights of the people among the members, but either they are so blind sometimes that they cannot see the "nigger in the woodpile" or they are so hopelessly outnumbered that there is little use raising a protest. Like charity, the good name of democracy has been often used to cover a multitude of sins, for which an accounting to the people will have to come sooner or later.

TO HELP THE JAILEERS.

The House today passed a bill which is designed to help the jailers of the State. It allows them a slight increase in the price allowed to be charged for the feeding of prisoners. Two companion bills are also before the body and the Jailers' Association of the State is working hard to secure their passage. Jailer W. J. Fitzgerald, of Boyle county, president of the association, is on the ground constantly and is doing good work for the measure.

The newspapers of the State appreciate the action of the Senate in passing the first of their libel law amendments, and hope that the House will do as well by it. This bill saves the paper which may have published a libelous article from punitive damages in the event it makes a complete retraction as prominently as the offending article appeared. No reputable newspaper would knowingly libel anyone, but sometimes mistakes will creep in, as they will in any business, no matter how carefully every crevice may be watched. Every honorable publisher is willing to make full explanation and apology for a mistake and it is but right that it should be accepted by the law and the aggrieved party in the spirit in which it is offered. S. M. S.

SOME fellow asked in Congress a few years ago when he wanted some law passed in conflict with the basic law, "What is the constitution between friends?" Really it doesn't seem to amount to much between any body of law makers when it wishes to do anything. For instance, the constitution provides the number of Appellate judges, but when the court got behind with its business it practically added another to the number by getting the Legislature to authorize the appointment of a commissioner. The constitution provides that the salary of an official shall not be increased during his incumbency, but the Legislature at the instance of the circuit judges added $1,200 to the salary of each by whipping the devil around the stump, that is to say, by giving them that sum for either acting or not acting as special judges. We are raising no kick over the latter, because those judges are underpaid. We simply want to show how easy it is to evade the constitution when it is desired to do so.

THE affirmance of the Court of Appeals of the constitutionality of the Crecelius law making the purchaser of pooled tobacco and all other crops a punishable offense, will prove of great value to the societies which are trying to aid the growers by making those who buy their product pay a reasonable price for it. The man who would sell his crop after pooling it should suffer such a penalty as would make the unprincipled act more odious.

THE Western Union Telegraph Co. announces a "night letter service" at nominal rates. The world is going in such a rush that the mails are far too slow for the average big business and the innovation may prove a great benefit to trade generally. Electricity seems destined to take the place of mail and fill a greater part in our daily life than can now be imagined.

TIM NEEDHAM, of Williamstown, and C. B. Nelson, of Washington City, have bought the Winchester Democrat for $12,000. Both are practical newspaper men and they should and doubtless will make it an even better paper than it now is.

PROGRESSIVE Atlanta has voted three millions for sewerage and street improvements. The New York of the South has a habit of biting off a big chunk, but she never fails to masticate.

MAYOR SHANK, of Indianapolis, who is a great notoriety-seeker, announces that he will have a number of women appointed on the police force.

80-ACRE farm about seven miles from Stanford. Land all cleared and in good state of cultivation; six-room cottage, barn, double crib, etc. Right on pike, close to good school house and church and in good community. Well watered and fenced. Price $2,000. Stanford Real Estate Co.

I SAW in your last paper the combined ages of S. H. Shanks and his four sisters was 396. The age of myself and my four sisters together is 369 years. W. S. Warren.

POLITICAL.

The State Senate passed the Ripper bill. Gov. Wilson appointed W. G. Munn, of Louisville, commissioner of the Institute for the Blind.

J. Campbell Cantrill, of the Seventh district, will be a candidate for Congress to succeed himself.

It is likely that Gov. Wilson will call an extra session of the Legislature immediately after its adjournment.

The House Committee on Naval Affairs voted for the construction of two battleships, one repair ship, two fleet colliers and four submarines.

A Washington dispatch says: Lewis Walker, of Lancaster, is said to have again thought it over and is willing to accept the Covington district attorneyship.

The Indiana State Republican convention will be held in Indianapolis on Tuesday, April 5, and the delegates to the convention will be chosen in the different counties March 25.

The fact that the Whallen-Waterson-Vreeland combine of boltors has succeeded in defeating the County Unit bill in the Senate, does not mean that they can, or will control the nominations of the democratic candidates next year. Controlling the Kentucky Senate on the Unit Bill, it will be found is an entirely different thing from controlling the Kentucky democracy.—Frankfort Journal.

Alleging that Secretary Richard A. Ballinger, of the Department of the Interior of the United States Government, entered the portfolio to tear down the Roosevelt policies of conservation and to aid monopolies in gaining control of the great resources of the frontier sections, former Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot took the witness stand in the Congressional investigation Saturday and electrified his audience by making serious charges against Mr. Ballinger.

How often do you eat this food?

A short time ago there appeared in the columns of one of the prominent magazines an article on building brain and muscle by the proper selection of the foods you eat.

A good many people were surprised to find oatmeal placed at the top of the list of foods recommended; but if the article had appeared in an English or Scotch paper every reader would have expected to see first place given to good oatmeal.

As a matter of fact Great Britain and Europe come to us for tremendous quantities of Quaker Oats because it represents to them perfect food, being the richest in flavor and best in cleanliness and purity, of all oatmeals.

How To Collect Your Notes and Accounts.

How can I collect what is owing me? This is the all important question with every merchant, wholesale firm, business and professional men, farmers—and, in fact, every one—today. Never has the question been so prominent in the business world as it is today. The loss of a few accounts may eat up your profits in business: the failure to collect a note makes you that much poorer; not being able, or in a position, to give the proper attention, knowledge or experience to the adjustment or examination into some claim in which you have an interest may cause you the loss of many dollars. Our province and our business is to help you in these matters. Whether it is a NOTE or ACCOUNT you are not able to collect; or whether it is some claim in which you have an interest which needs looking into carefully, we are prepared to do it, and do it promptly. This is our business: we make it a study: We have the facilities and we have the experience, and the fact that we have collected many dollars which were given up as lost, is one of our best arguments in favor of what we can do. Our terms are reasonable, and we make no charges unless we collect: We make collections anywhere in the United States. We recently collected an account for a firm in the adjoining county against a man in California. If you have a claim which needs looking after, or a note or account which you want collected, no matter how large or how small, or where the parties live, send it to us. We solicit your business. CHANGE OF FIRM.—Mr. E. D. Pennington has bought the interest of Mr. R. B. Mahony in the insurance and real estate firm of Mahony & Fish and the firm is now Fish & Pennington. The business is a paying one and Mr. Mahony has been chiefly instrumental in building it up to its present high standard and his numerous friends regret that ill-health forces him to retire. Dock Padgett, indicted for the murder of Green Skidmore, was allowed bail in the sum of $1,000, which he gave. THE Maysville Daily Bulletin says: "A large audience witnessed Mrs. Reid's entertainment, which scored a big hit last evening, the "Dude Drill" and "Guess What?" bringing down the house in a storm of applause." The same program will be given at Walton's Opera House Friday evening, March 11, and as our young people can not be excused you can't afford to miss it.

WILL H. SHANKS, of Lincoln, is a valuable member of the lower House and is the father of the bill to create and establish a department of uniform accounting and inspection of public offices. This is Will's second term and he is a very valuable member. Jos. T. Embry, doorkeeper of the House, and Jesse M. Alverson, assistant clerk in the Senate, seem to be on their jobs.—Extract from the Mt. Vernon Signal's Frankfort correspondence.

DELSARTE ENTERTAINMENT.—Mrs. Reid's entertainment at Walton's Opera House on Friday evening, March 11, promises to be very attractive. About 75 of our most talented young people will take part. Totten, of Decatur. The burial occurred in the Lancaster cemetery at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon after services at the grave by Eld. Joseph Ballou. Judge Totten was police judge of Lancaster for many years but moved to his son's home some two years ago. He was a kind-hearted, affable old gentleman and a devout member of the Christian church.

BIBB.—Miss Florence Bibb, well-known and much loved by her many friends in this county, where she lived many years, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. E. Godwin, in Nashville a few days ago.
